Learn how to write application programs that use Data Language One (DL/I) to process Information Management System (IMS) databases.

Objectifs

- Describe the basic differences between files and IMS databases as they relate to application program coding and logic
- Describe the terms and processing characteristics of IMS hierarchic data structures
- Construct DL/I calls for either COBOL or PL/I language programs
- Write, test and debug a batch application program that uses the DL/I call functions
- Use the IMS Test Program to prototype application program calls, and to perform ad-hoc read and update access to an IMS database
- Describe the applications and uses of other DL/I features
- Program for recovery and restart using DL/I calls to establish synchronization points
- Describe the functions provided by High Availability Large Database (HALDB), and any program differences when accessing a Full Function database or a HALDB
