Maximo 7.6 Database Configuration

CODE:	LENGTH:	PRICE:
ZL1_W0114	1 day	£85.00

Description

This course includes an overview of the process, the creation and modification of objects, views, indexes and relationships. Further, you will learn how to apply configuration changes, backup the database when DB2 is the DBMS, create new messages, and understand the various actions available in the Common and More actions available in Database Configuration. The course is delivered via interactive simulations where you have an opportunity to learn and potentially interact with the system while we lead you through the functionality. At the end you can test your knowledge by completing the short quizzes. These simulations may aid you in preparing for certification on the product.
